

Southwest Airlines Offers $39 One-Way Fares Between Philadelphia/Pittsburgh and Philadelphia/Boston Area

For 72-Hours Only, Airline Celebrates the Addition of New Flights with a One-Way $39 Fare

August 15, 2010

DALLAS, Aug 15, 2010 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ --

Summer continues to sizzle across the northeast and so do Southwest Airlines' (NYSE: LUV) low fares! Today, Customers can purchase one-way tickets for $39 between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and between Philadelphia and Southwest's Boston area airports (Boston Logan, Manchester, NH, or Providence, RI). These fares are available with a seven-day advance purchase now through 11:59 p.m. PDT August 17, 2010, for travel every day except Sundays between Aug. 23, 2010 through Jan. 7, 2011 (blackout dates apply). These fares are available only on www.southwest.com and <http://www.swabiz.com> (see Fare Rules below). To see the latest schedule, and to take advantage of these special fares, visit www.southwest.com.

Southwest is also offering these low fares to celebrate new additions to these popular routes:

- Philadelphia/Pittsburgh - On Sunday, August 15, Southwest is adding two additional daily nonstops between these two cities. Customers can now choose from six nonstops between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.
- Philadelphia/Boston Area (Boston Logan, Manchester, NH, or Providence, RI) - In late June, Southwest began new nonstop service between Philadelphia and Boston, drastically lowering the fares on this route. On Sunday, August 15, the carrier will add three additional daily nonstops between the two cities--bringing the total to eight. With four daily flights between Providence and Philly, and another four from Manchester, NH; Southwest now flies 16 daily nonstops from the Boston Area to the City of Brotherly Love!

After 39 years of service, Southwest Airlines continues to differentiate itself from other low fare carriers--offering a reliable product with exemplary Customer Service.
